TEN TONS OF SEED.

U. S. Department of Agriculture Using That Amount for Restocking Forests.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3 .- The U. S. Department of Agriculture is using this year on the National Forests over 10 tons of tree seed. Most of this seed has already been planted or sown. The rest will be utilized later in the season, as favorable conditions are presented.

It takes a great many tree seeds to make 10 tons. Jack pine, the most important tree for planting in the Nebraska sand hills by the Forest Service, will average something like 125,000 to the pound. Of Western yellow pine, the tree most extensively planted throughout the National Forests as a whole, 10,000 seed will make a pound. Altogether the 10 tons of seed to be used this year represent perhaps 300,000,000 single

If every seed could be depended on to produce a young tree suitable for planting, the result would be a sup-300,000 acres of land, but no such result can be looked for because many seeds do not germinate. Most of the seed will be sown, either broadcast or in seed spots, or planted with a corn planter, directly in the place where the trees are to stand.

There are now 24 National Forest nurseries with an annual productive capacity of over 8,000,000 seedlings. But there are many millions of old burns on the National Forests which are waiting to be restocked, and some quicker and cheaper method than the actual planting of nursery grown trees is urgently needed. Therefore the foresters are making experiments on a large scale with different methods of direct sowing and planting, and most of the seed gathered last year was obtained for this use.

GRANGE NOTES

New Hampshire Grangers and Board of Agriculture Join in Annual Farmers' Day-Some Valuable Sugges-

The 25th annual field meeting of the Patrons of Husbandry of New Hampshire was held recently at Hampton Beach, N. H. The Granges all over the state, some in eastern Massachusetts and the state board of agriculture cooperated with the Grangers in making the day a sucess. Some of the addresses contained statements of such general interest that we publish them.

Farmers Should Cooperate. Ex-Senator Chandler spoke on Farmers Not Corporations." He said I. Farmers sell their products in full competition and never in combination with each other, or as part of a monopoly, and never receive more than a small fraction of the prices

paid by the ultimate consumers. II. The prospects of the farmers are growing worse by reason of the organization of corporations dealing in food products which destroy competition, create food monopolies and fix their own prices, making them low to the producers and high to the consumers-all as part of a vast modern system of corporation monopolies, in ply of nursery stock sufficient to plant | all departments of human industry and huge private fortunes of the malefactors of great wealth, which system as a part of its plan is taking posses sion of all politics and all government state and national. III. The remedy of the farmers should be organization on their part, in connection with laborers and consumers to destroy the evils of corporation monopolies. Wherever compe-tition cannot be secured by the repeal of monopolistic legislation there should be complete government control and revelation of the corporation monopolies and a government protection of both producers and consumers; and to secure these ends the control of the conventions and the elections and of the office holders must be taken-away from the money power and returned to the people. For this purpose the farmers, the laborers and the consumers must cooperate by the organization of free and unpurchased unions of citizens. IV. The laws of congress and of the state legislatures should forbid capitalized industrial corporations and railroad corporations to combine in suppression of competition. On the other hand, however, farmers' unions, labor unions and consumers' unions should be allowed to make and maintain combinations to secure to these classes respectively their just rights to fair prices, and no extortion in the ultimate prices to the consum-

The reason for this discrimination is that corporations have in their ownership and possession vast sums of money-vast capital-while the farmers, the laborers and the consumers have substantially none.

New Hampshire Roads.

Gov. Henry B. Quimby in speaking constructing state roads. He said that approximately $200,000 has been expended upon the roads this year, and there has been appropriated to the various towns $724,556.81, with a total sum of $1,036,000.43, to be exseph, who have been visiting Miss pended this year. There has been about 40 miles of road already completed. This trunk line proposition is a serious problem involving a great we have got a dollar's worth of work for every dollar of your money. That is the case with the state house, and believe the state will have value received when that is completed. It is my belief that if automobilists wish to get there over good roads, they can help to pay for them. If he, has a 60-horse power car, he is in a position to pay for our roads. If he is not, he has no business with such a car, for it is a luxury. "Every bit of state road is a benefit to the farmer, and I believe the time will come when the legislature will put all these roads under a competent engineer. Then, with an intelligent supervision, these roads will be kept in condition for all time. I hope in the next legislature it will be decided to put all these roads under this department. Not for the motorist but for the people, the farmers who must use them, I ask for careful use

The Cow and Diphtheria.

To the Editor of the Caledonian:-

Along with many other citizens of St. Johnsbury I have been intensely interested in the milk-diphtheria difficulty that has developed. That it is a serious difficulty no one can deny. That it has caused, and is causing, a deal of embarrassment, both to sick ones and their homes, and to the owners of the cows is equally evident. The promptness and thoroughness with which measures have been taken to learn the source of the trouble and to remove it is worthy of all commendation. It has occurred to one, however, to wonder if such efforts have been directed towards the right end. Remembering having read something in one of the Boston dailies some time ago bearing on a similar situation I wondered if perchance there might not be advantage in a straightforward appeal to the cows themselves. At any rate I venture to send you the piece to which I refer-though somewhat changed from the original-with the hope that if you deem it wise to print it some good may result, if not physiological and bacteriological, why then surely psychological.

An Appeal to the Cow. (Adapted from Joe Cone). Bossie, bossie, how can you Make us feel so awful blue? How can you us milk deny When we are so very dry? Though we long to take a drink From your milk we have to shrink; For we cannot come to terms With your old diphtheria germs.

Anything that is un-meat; Do not wade through greenish water And to drink you hadn't ought ter. Shun all patches that are white Of daisies, clover, and the like; Don't be feverish or hot Nor ill-tempered in the lot. Bossie, bossie, how we long

'Bossie, bossie, do not eat

For some milk so white and strong; But we'll have to try the goat If what you give destroys our throat Bossie, bossie, come to terms; Give the hook to all those germs. Give down milk from microbes free, Or we'll kick the bucket, see?'

Hot Fight at Republican County Convention at Newport.-Alfred and

Hill the Winners. The Orleans county republican convention held in Newport on Wednesday last was the hottest convention for years, there being two contests for county offices. The result of the first ballot in the contest for judge of probate was Frank E. Affred 50 and Frank E. Miles 34, giving Alfred 16 votes over Miles and seven majority. The contest for sheriff was long and intense. It required 16 ballots to secure a nomination. The two leading candidates for this office were several times on the point of winning when the ballot would show an entirely different position. In the 14th and 15th ballot it was discovered that there were more ballots than delegates and the chairman ordered the delegates to be seated and the secretary called the roll. After the roll J. H. Lewis of Troy withdrew his candidate, W. W. Wakefield, and his forces went to E. J. Hill, who had 43 to Erastus Buck's 39, 43 being necessary for choice. The remainder of the ticket fol-
